

GOOD MORNING, MR. COMMONSENSE

There's a certain concern in this town that's mighty anxious to have all the women of St. Louis come and go through its pure-food grocery store, and by appealing to men of common sense we think possibly "male" brains will have a good effect in influencing the other sex to come.

Do you know, men, that among all the other sights and interesting features of this home city of yours, there is but one hygienic grocery store— but one in the entire Southwest, for that matter.

We'd love to have men that are interested in cleanliness inspect this pure-food grocery at the Meyer Store and see the actual improvements on the other sort of a grocery. In this (the new kind of a grocery store) everything is kept free from dust and dirt, and everything, while in full view, is protected by and is shown in glass cases. There are dozens of windows in this grocery store of ours, yet not one is it covered by a new arrangement in a strange statement, but nevertheless true. Perishable groceries are kept cool by tons of ice daily, and while the refrigerators are out of the way in a sense, yet you can see the contents right before you. Beyond these improvements on the old-time grocery, there are scores of other equally as helpful to the new sort of a grocery store. Now, wouldn't any man prefer patronizing the clean, hygienic, pure-food grocery store to the old-time shop when the cost is smaller on almost every item? Give your wife "the tip" when you go home, or, better still, drop in some time during the day, look over this big, flourishing new sort of a grocery and in your own words tell her of the advantages yourself, for we believe you'll see them the moment you enter this ideal grocery store of ours. Plenty of demonstrations to make your visit interesting.

THE MEYER STORE

The display of Summer Goods at Barr's cannot fail to meet the fancy of the critical and economical buyer. The fabrics this season are delightful in design, and nowhere are they offered in such assortment as at Missouri's Greatest Store.

E. J. GLASGOW'S BODY WILL ARRIVE TO-DAY

Prominent Dry Goods Merchant Who Died in Boston Probably Will Be Buried Wednesday.

The body of Edward J. Glasgow, Jr., who died suddenly in Boston Saturday, is expected to arrive in St. Louis before noon to-day in charge of Mrs. Glasgow and her son, William Hargadine Glasgow, who has been attending college at Cambridge.

No arrangements for the funeral have been made. It probably will take place Wednesday from the family residence, No. 356 Washington avenue.

Mr. Glasgow's death was due to heart failure. He departed from St. Louis a week ago Friday, accompanied by his wife. He was then apparently in the best of health. Four days ago he was taken ill, but his condition was not considered serious until Saturday, when his heart failed.

Mr. Glasgow, who was vice president of the Hargadine-McKittick Dry Goods Company, was born in St. Louis March 27, 1833. His father, William H. Glasgow, was one of the pioneer merchants of this city. His educational training was completed at Washington University, after which, for several years, he lived on a sugar plantation in Louisiana. Returning to St. Louis he became associated with his father in the wholesale grocery trade, in which he continued until 1880. He then became connected with the wholesale dry goods house of Crow, Hargadine & Co., and a year and a half later was admitted to a partnership in that establishment. With the passing away of some of the older members of the firm the company's name was changed to Hargadine-McKittick, and as vice president and one of the active managers of the business, Mr. Glasgow had almost entire charge of its affairs.

He was married January 14, 1860, to Miss

Julia Hargadine, second daughter of William A. Hargadine.

He leaves a daughter, Carlotta, 14 years old, Mrs. William W. Bowling of No. 364 Cabanne and Mrs. Anita E. O'Fallon of No. 447 Westminster place, are sisters of Mr. Glasgow. Mrs. William H. Thomson of No. 286 Lindell boulevard, and Mrs. Otto A. Von Schrader of No. 378 Westminster, are his sisters-in-law.

Organizer Coldly Received.

Central Trades Refused to Assist in Forming Teamsters' Union.

Albert Young, a labor organizer from Chicago, who is in St. Louis in an endeavor to organize a teamsters' union, was refused assistance in the project by the Central Trades and Labor Union at the meeting yesterday. Young says he has organized 1200 teamsters in Chicago and formed a central international organization. It is his intention, he says, to reorganize the St. Louis teamsters.

David Kreyling, secretary of the Central Trades, in opposing the request, stated that St. Louis has a teamsters' union that is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and if support would be given to a rival organization only discord would result. The St. Louis teamsters, he said, were recently settled a strike and were in harmony with the employers.

Delegates of the engineers submitted a decision received from President Gompers commanding the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America to withdraw all charters issued to engineers since the Louisville convention, and ordering all engineers to affiliate with the International Union of Steam Engineers.

A boycott order was issued upon the request of the garment workers against firms not signing the new hour scale of the cutters, which was presented to the manufacturing clothing firms May 1.

DEAN DAVIS'S ANNUAL SERMON.

Gives Year's History of Christ Church Cathedral.

Dean Carroll M. Davis of Christ Church Cathedral yesterday morning preached his "annual sermon." He spoke of the changes that had taken place in the church in the past year and referred particularly to the acquisition of the Exposition Building by the Library Board, as a matter that had inspired the civic righteousness of the city's officers.

Near the close of the church year it is customary for Dean Davis to preach a sermon in the nature of a history of the events of the past year. He referred to the death of Wayman McCreey and John R. Triplett, and spoke of recent gifts to St. Luke's Hospital. He reported the church to be in a prosperous condition.
